

About the Institute

IIT Hyderabad is one among the 2nd generation of IITs started by the Govt. of India in 2008. The very foundation of IIT Hyderabad is based on research and innovation. IIT Hyderabad was ranked 8th among all Indian Engineering institutes by the National Institutional Ranking Framework in 2019.

Indian Geotechnical Society, IGS-IITH Student Chapter

The IGS-IITH student chapter has organized and participated in several workshops and student events since 2017. IGS-IITH student chapter is actively working under IGS Hyderabad local chapter.

About the Symposium

GeoKNIT is a first symposium to be held under IGS-IITH Chapter resolved to create a network of young and determined people interested in Civil Engineering (Geotechnical Engineering), and will be conducted as an annual event. The main objective is to create awareness among students on the importance of Geotechnical engineering, and to encourage interaction between students from various engineering colleges.

Outcome of the symposium: It is expected to help the students to acquire valuable insights on the recent advances in Geotechnical Engineering.

Topics Covered in Symposium

- ◆ Advances in Civil Engineering.
- ◆ Recent Innovations in Geotechnical Engineering.
- ◆ Case Studies in Geotechnical Engg.
- ◆ Soil exploration and Field testing.
- ◆ Ground Improvement techniques.

Resource Persons:

- ◆ Dr. Arunakumari Garaga, Sr. Engineer (Offshore Structural and Geotech), Worley Parsons.
- ◆ Mr. Thejesh Kumar G, Cambridge University, London.
- ◆ Dr. Hari Prasad C, Mahindra École Centrale, Hyderabad.
- ◆ Prof. G. Sridevi, HOD, BVRIT, Hyderabad.

Presentations

Student presentations will be organized in the afternoon session on 22nd February 2020. All presenters are requested to email their presentations by 18th February to geoknitiith@gmail.com. Shortlisted presentations will be intimated personally, and best presentations will be acknowledged.

Eligibility & Registration Fee: All Civil Engineering students are eligible to participate and present in GeoKNIT-2020. The registration fee for symposium is 500/- per person, which includes the registration, lunch, and high tea.
